Seven Candidates Seek 3 Posts In South Bay City Election

Voting machines will be delivered Friday to the City of South Bay for their forthcoming election Tuesday, September 6, when candidates will be elected for three city commission seats.

Mayor-Commissioner Cosby Crews is a candidate for re-election in Group 1, opposed by Norman Austin. Crews, a South Bay grocery merchant, has been a resident of the city for several years, as has his opponent. Austin is employed as a welder at Okelanta Sugar Mill. There is speculation that a runoff may result in group 2 where three candidates seek commission posts. Franklin W. Kelley, veteran commissioner, is again seeking office, with Neal Hulon Mayo, a comparative newcomer to South Bay, and Byron R. Walker, a native in the race. Mayo is field foreman for Okelanta mill and Walker a farmer.

In group 3, incumbent Henry Elfers is given opposition by Jay Smith, field foreman for South Bay Growers and long time resident of South Bay. To permit voters to register after-hours, registration books were opened Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings last week. City Clerk Craig reported 35 voters were registered, bringing the total to 755. Assisting the City Clerk with registrations were Mrs. Peggy Pugh and Mrs. Faye Tillman.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. at the City Hall for precinct 1, and at Billy Rogers mess hall for precinct 2.

Candidates Invited To Speak At Jaycee's Open Meeting

Candidates for the upcoming city commission race have been invited to speak at the regular Jaycee meeting at the Holiday Inn Thursday night at 8 p. m.

Douglas Jones, president of the organization, announces that the meeting is open to the public and that all citizens interested in their city government are urged to attend.

Candidates will be given time to present their platforms and time will be allowed for questions from the audience.

In past years, the Jaycees have sponsored political street rallies in front of city hall, however, due to lack of interest and poor participation, the organization will hear the candidates at their regular meeting and have made their meeting open to those who share the Jaycees' interest in local government.

Dave Spooner, vice president of the organization, will preside over the meeting.

Athletic Barbecue Sept. 15

Tickets for the Annual Barbecue sponsored by Belle Glade Athletic Council to be held Thursday, September 15, will go on sale today, chairman Lee Berryhill announced.

The fund-raising event, under the chairmanship of Lee Berryhill, will begin at 5 p. m. with serving until 7:30 when Belle Glade B-Team plays its first game for the season with Stuart.

Two favored area chefs will prepare the barbecued chicken — Louie Kirchman of Freddy's, and E. C. Mapp each in his own style cooking, to please every taste.

Program plans were formulated at Athletic Council meeting held Wednesday night, conducted by the new president Dick Hodges. John Causey is vice president of the organization this year.

Barbecue tickets were distributed and will be available from any member, committee chairman Berryhill announced.

Hospital Board Approves Budget For Next Year

Glades General Hospital has submitted its budget for 1966-1967 to the County Commissioners, stated Ben Clarke, Hospital Administrator.

The budget, which was necessarily increased this year, calls for a total millage request of $455,000 of which $118,715 is for Debt Service which includes bond interest and redemption for the 1965 addition as well as the amortized cost of completely renovating the old hospital. The remaining $336,285 is to be used to supplement patient income for the operation and maintenance of the entire facility, Clarke continued.

The hospital was substantially under-budgeted for the current year in that the hospital almost tripled its size and did not raise the millage to take care of the additional expenses involved. An example cited was a cost of $9,000 in 1964-1965 for heat, lights, and water as compared to $34,000 in 1965-1966 when the hospital was expanded.

It was noted that the budget calls for 142 full time personnel or 124 employees for each patient which is well below the national average of 246 for a short-term, non-federal, general hospital. Clarke also stated that the Florida average cost per patient day for 149 reporting short-term general hospitals was $44.10 as compared with $25.67, as approved by the Florida State Board of Health, for Glades General Hospital.

Rising costs are also a major reason for additional expenses. The costs of our hundreds of different types of supplies have risen and will continue to rise, thereby increasing our expenses.

Also, our personnel must have financial adjustments as they go along in their rising expenses and, generally speaking, in the hospital industry, payroll accounts for about 60 percent of a hospital's total expense.

It is expected that certain economies in operation can be effected which, coupled with increased patient revenue as more local residents utilize the facility, should bring about a reduction in millage requirements.

And finally, Clarke concluded, another cause for the millage increase lies in the fact that the total tax valuation for the Hospital District was decreased from last year's $12,174,087 down to $10,007,186 for 1966.

Temporary Ambulance Service Inadequate

Ambulance service calls have been heavy in comparison to fire calls, Belle Glade Fire Department Chief Cecil Bair reported.

Thirty-nine ambulance service calls had been answered through August 29th from the time of take-over by the city departments.

Cases have included a patient with a broken leg, one with a broken hip, and O. B. case, a patient with severe burns, knife case, and, among varied others, two transfers to West Palm Beach Hospitals.

"While we've managed to provide temporary ambulance service so far," the fire chief said, "I definitely feel every district should have a soundly operated ambulance service and that it should not be left to the city to provide."

Two car accident cases have been handled so far and presented problems. Someone should be doing something about the ambulance service situation," is the fire chief's opinion.

"Any cases outside our city means we're treading on shallow water," he stressed.

Our own local people will be looked after under present conditions, he commented. "But heaven help those from other states who need ambulance care in our area, even though they're your relatives.

When ambulance calls are received other firemen are called in to substitute at the station, the chief said.

Held For C. J. Aspey

Clarence J. Aspey, 80, for 36 years a colorful well-known resident of the Glades, was laid to rest Friday, August 26, following morning services held in Belle Glade First Baptist Church where he was a member.

Plant Superintendent at Belle Glades Publishers since its organization in 1940, with increased patient revenue as more local residents utilize the facility, should bring about a reduction in millage requirements.

And finally, Clarke concluded, another cause for the millage increase lies in the fact that the total tax valuation for the Hospital District was decreased from last year's $12,174,087 down to $10,007,186 for 1966.

First Day In Glades Schools Reported As "Good, Normal"

"A good, normal first day." This was typical of Glades' principals' comments about their first day of school.

Lions Hear Al Avery

Al Avery, mayor of the City of Delray was the guest speaker at Wednesday's meeting of the Belle Glade Lions Club. Avery, who spoke on problems of city and county government, has been most outspoken for economy in government. Serving his second term as mayor and completing five years on the Delray Beach city commission.

Most elementary schools reported a slight increase or almost the same enrollment as last year's first day, while junior highs and senior highs reported increases around 100. All schools had from two to 18 new teachers with several vacancies still existing.

Mr. Carl Crawford, principal of Belle Glade Elementary, reports an enrollment of 630 with more new students than ever before, although the figure is lower than last year's first day enrollment, with many old students still on vacation. The number is expected to exceed last year's figure after Labor Day.

Five new classroom teachers have been hired to complete the 29-teacher classroom staff. Mrs. Sue Townsend has also joined the staff to fill a newly created Special Services school. Mr. Hutto, new itinerant art instructor, will be based there.

Mrs. Mabel Lutz of Gove Elementary reports 416 the first day with several out-of-staters. Gove has one new classroom teacher, Miss Linda Rabin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rabin, of Belle Glade. New itinerant teachers based at Gove are Mr. Harry Peterson, music, and Mr. John Inglis, physical education.

Mr. Ruth Irvin totaled 99, about the same in 1965. Being a migrant school the figure rises sharply as the season returns. Three new teachers have joined the seven-teacher staff, the same as the previous year. He has three new teachers on a faculty of 17. Two positions are still open.

Mr. Arthur Jones of Okeechoe Elementary drew 207 pupils, about the same as the previous year. He has three new teachers on a faculty of 17. Two positions are still open.

Prowler Continues Activities

On routine patrol in the Wedgworth Road area Patrolman Horace Mann was a man lying in the grass near the street at 1:18 Tuesday morning. The man got up and ran. Patrolman Mann followed in his car as far as a barrier where he got out to chase him. As he opened the car door the man shot at Mann breaking the windshield and visor on the car.

Improved Living Conditions A Challenge To Our Community

The number one problem concerning recruiting and retaining employees in the Glades area is living conditions, seven Glades firms personnel officers were in complete agreement at a luncheon Monday.

Living conditions were broken down further into housing and recreation or entertainment. Actual working conditions and wage are generally considered as satisfactory and often above average.

Very often that an applicant comes to town, registers at a motel and calls on the employment office. He likes the job and the pay, then goes out with his wife to find a place to live. He is never seen again by the employment office.

What has happened is old story to the Personnel Officer. An employee "just found out that a home for which he paid $85.00 to $100.00 per month rent where he came from would cost him $125.00 here."

One of the officers reported that of 150 employees only about 50 of them lived in the Glades and

Registration Continues To Lag For Belle Glade City Election

Despite concerted efforts to register qualified citizens to be eligible to vote in Belle Glade's City Election September 13, results were discouragingly low as of the Herald's press time Wednesday.

Registrants totaled only 2,244 against last year's 2,600, Mrs. Jones said.

Registration books will close Friday, September 2, at 4:30 p. m.

Any citizen of the United States who has lived in the City for one year is qualified to register, Mrs. Jones said.

Only 84 eligible voters were gleaned at registration locations set up by volunteer workers in business establishments last Saturday.

Registration has continued this week at City Hall and the Chamber of Commerce office. Mrs. Jones reported only 7 registrants through her office for Wednesday. Mrs. Violet Pelning registered 15 Tuesday at the Chamber, and 5 before 2 p. m. Wednesday.

"We've had representatives out working the area," Mrs. Jones reported. "I and other workers broiled in the hot sun all day in the United States who has lived in the City for one year is qualified to register, Mrs. Jones said.

Jones reminded. From this citizenry we — the largest town in the Glades — have only 2244 registered voters. Pahokee with a population of 5,000 reported 744 registered voters and from South Bay's 1800, 755 are registered.

"Even though we give curb service our people fail to bother," Mrs. Jones said.

A registrant is disqualified with failure to vote in two successive city elections. Purging of the registration books this year eliminated 722 names from the city's books including residents who have moved away or are deceased and those who have not taken the time to vote.

Applications for absentee ballots may be made at Mrs. Jones' office.

As Labor Day Approaches....

Apprehension as to the adequacy of our existing temporary ambulance service has been expressed, particularly with the approaching Labor Day weekend.

While no serious incidents have occurred since the service was taken over by Belle Glade firemen and policemen who have diligently given of their time and efforts, forebodings exist should one or more serious road accidents occur.

While requirements for improved ambulance service as laid down by the department of Public Health and Welfare do have merit, the means to meet these stringent rules are not practical, against existing conditions. Wage and hour rules along make the service as outlined prohibitive for continuation by former operators.

Service in the Glades area has been, prior to the new ruling, provided by local Funeral Homes without incident or criticism.

It seems it would have been advisable that round table discussions be held and this issue approached from experienced viewpoints as well as from idealistic.

We in the Glades are all too familiar with screaming ambulance sirens as a result of car-road accidents. Our treacherous type roads invite disaster, even WITH guardrails.

Meanwhile, silent prayers are being said that deaths in our area may not result as a means of this type high-handed interference.

What is the answer in providing necessary service that offers a sense of security for all?

It has been stressed by interested persons that the only answer is in the county commission providing a subsidy to area funeral homes to provide the necessary services.

How Hard Up For Help Is Rural America?

happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

A plan to establish regional agencies of the federal government to help direct the growth and development of rural American communities is the newest blueprint for extension of central authority to come off the bureaucratic drawing board. Neatly packaged in legislative form under the title of Community District Development Act, the program would create federally administered planning bodies to provide coordination and advice in the development of cities and counties sharing common social, economic and geographic interests.

Nation's Business recently analyzed the proposal and discussed its potential impact on cities, counties and states. It said that regional districts would be made up of territories embracing towns and counties surrounding a general marketing center and could possibly cross state lines. District directors, representing the various elected bodies of political subdivisions within any district, would comprise the district board and be responsible for planning and "advising" as well as guiding all federal funds to approved projects. Federal grant-giving agencies would have to abide by district development plans.

While no district could be formed without the concurrence of state and local governments, Nation's Business says, "... the lure of special subsidies — plus the threat of seeing them funneled elsewhere — suggests that the political pressures on local officials to go along include a lot more than devotion to coordinated planning." Washington officials admit special doses of economic and social aid are planned to entice regions to get the first districts going.

The Department of Agriculture and its Rural Community Development Service would run the program. Agricultural officials say they visualize all nonmetropo-litan areas of the country eventually divided into community development districts, but there is nothing in the loosely-worded bill limiting districts to the countryside of exempting metropolitan areas.

Nation's Business quoted a former Agriculture Department official who said the authority originally sought by the Department would have passed state governments. While Congress would likely have opposed it, the desire to bypass th state indicates there is a potential danger of federal circumvention of state and local authority once districts are established. As it is, the plan would carve states and counties into a series of federal districts, which Nation's Business says, "... would remake the map of the U. S."

A major critic of the bill is Idaho Governor Robert E. Smylie, whose opinion is, "... that all... our experience... with the programs under the Economic Opportunity Act shows that the superimposition of federally dominated administrative units between our traditional governmental units does more to confound the problems we are all interested in solving than it does to solve them." He declares that community development districts "... be totally destructive of the capacity — and the will... of the small towns to work out their own problems... And they're just not that hard up."

Governor Smylie thus brings up a question which must be answered, not only for the community development district proposal, but of all federally sponsored programs to offer advice and assistance to local communities. Just how hard up for help is rural America? Chances are that federal planners would be looking elsewhere for recipients of their plans if the question were ever objectively answered by Congress. Moreover, there is the matter of how far the American people wish to go in abandoning the principles of representative self-government. That is the great unresolved question of the time.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I'm writing my little piece afore the final tabulations for Labor Day was in, but we set a new record ever holiday for people getting killed on the highways and I'm guessing Monday was another record for death and destruction up and down the roads of America.

I think this Judge in Indiana has come up with the best plan I have saw for highway safety. He makes the wild drivers that makes into his court writte out their own death notice and funeral story for the paper. Then he makes them go to the funeral home, pick out the coffin they'd like to be buried in, and discuss their funeral plans, like who they would like to have for pallbearers, with the burial folks. If they don't want to do all this, they can pay a heavy fine and spend some time in jail. The piece I was reading said none of them was taking the jail plan.

We was discussing this matter at the county store Saturday night and Bug Hookum claimed they wasn't no cure for the situation. He said he had done give up on the whole human race the minute they got behind a steering wheel. He was of the opinion that at his age they was three things that would still be here when he was dead and gone, increased taxes, slaughter, on the highways, and the war in Viet Nam.

Zeke Grubb was disagreed with Bug, claimed the car manufacturers was going to make cars a heap safer, and with all them two-lane Federal highways we was building, things would get better.

But personal, Mister Editor, Zeke was the kind of feller that does a heap of wishful thinking. He still hopes he'll live to see the day when we will have 1966 wages, 1922 costs, and 1911 taxes. A feller with that philosophy had ought to go see his doctor because he's bad sick.

Ed Doolittle asked as how they was one great hope for safety on the highways and he was of the opinion it was coming faster than most folks thought. He said he was convinced in another 10 year most American taxpayers would be riding a tell of two mules having a head on collision.

Ed had a newspaper clipping to prove his point. This piece reported the interest on our new national debt for the next fiscal year would run $2,000 a minute, showing it took 22 people paying $1,000 income tax this year to pay the interest for one minute. The storekeeper did a little figuring on Ed's item and announced it was taking 11,563, 200 taxpayers paying $1,000 income tax this year to pay the annual interest on what we owe.

If you hear of anybody, Mister Editor, that's got a mule for sale, let me know.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Its about time the citizens and taxpayers of Western Palm Beach gave some serious thought about our present predicament. Taxes have more than doubled on our homes and businesses in the past 2 years and services to our community are less. Where are our county officials spending the additional revenue? Have the taxes of our Yankee friends from the coast also increased at the same rate? Are we getting a fair shake in the new and controversial 100% evaluation? I doubt it.

Altho we are paying taxes to support the Port of Palm Beach and other facilities that benefit only the coast area, we do not receive tax money from the port to support our hospitals or drainage. Is this fair taxation?

There are 4 seats for the state house of representatives from Palm Beach County. We no longer have a member of this group. Is this fair representation?

We now must depend upon strangers to haul us to the hospital if we are unfortunate enough to have an accident outside the city limits of Belle Glade or our chances of having such an accident are increased by the third rate roads that our Coast friends and I use the word loosely allow us to have. Our county commission has denied any responsibility for providing us with ambulance service.

Our Hospital has refused to take any action and our local Funeral directors have been put out of the ambulance business because of federal and state rulings that have made it economically impossible for them to continue to provide the service.

Must we continue to be second rate citizens to our neighbors on the coast? Should we struggle along, taking only the handouts that are allowed us (if we keep our nose clean) or is it about time that we demand fair taxation equal representation, and fair distribution of the county's services and facilities.

I think its about time we gave serious consideration to a split from our rich friends on the coast, form a new county where our tax monies will be of benefit to our citizens or perhaps we would do better to demonstrate. At any rate its about time that we, the citizens of Western Palm Beach County unite and fight for our rights.

Respectfully yours,
Ray Ashton

What Has God's Kingdom Been Doing Since 1914?

The Miami Beach Convention Hall was packed Sunday as over 20,000 delegates assembled for the final session of the five-day district convention of Jehovah's Witnesses. A large delegation attended from Belle Glade.

Grant Suiter, member of the Headquarters staff of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York delivered the principal address, speaking on the subject, "What Has God's Kingdom Been Doing Since 1914?"

Representatives from 39 states and nine foreign countries were present for the religious assembly with the theme, "God's Sons of Liberty" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

NOT NORMAL TIMES

Suiter said the earth has never been the same since the year 1914.

"We say this because of the changed conditions among people on earth," he said.

Sept. 5-9 Series Of Bible Lectures At Church Of Christ

W. Ray Duncan, minister of the Church of Christ in West Palm Beach, is to begin a series of Bible Lectures at the Belle Glade congregation Monday night September 5th., and services will be conducted nightly at 7:30 P. M.

Mr. Duncan is known to many throughout southern Florida as the "Quinmaster" because he has been conducting the KNOW YOUR BIBLE TV and radio program for more than twenty years. He will finish the sixth consecutive year of television program over channel 12 in June this year, and is expected to enter the seventh year in July. Also he has done missionary work in Libya, Northern Africa, and has travelled in many countries in Europe, which should make an interesting background for his Bible Lectures in Belle Glade this coming week.

There will be an unusual approach to this meeting, which is somewhat of an innovation in the churches of Christ, in that all Lectures and sermons Monday through Friday will be narrated around films showing scriptures and pictures. The entire Bible will be highlighted in the first five nights. Questions will be asked and answered at the conclusion of each service. We hope you will attend the Lectures as our guest. Churches of Christ are accustomed to taking their collections on the first day of week, and then only from members. Be our honored guests and enjoy this interesting Bible series without obligation of any kind. Just have a love for God, and a desire to know more of His will.

Lutheran Kindergarten Teachers Commissioned

Mrs. Nada K. Snyder and Mrs. Loretta D. Roseman were formally inducted as teachers into the Saint Peter's Lutheran Kindergarten during the regular Sunday morning worship service, August 28th. They promised, with the help of God, to feed the lambs of Christ with those things necessary for a well-balanced life.

Mrs. Snyder is the wife of James C. Snyder of 1037 Wedgworth Road in Belle Glade. She has four children: Mark, Lenny, Kevin, and Laura. She is a long time resident of Belle Glade.

Mrs. Roseman is the wife of Reverend Richard Roseman, pastor of Saint Peter's Lutheran Church. She is a native of West Point, Nebraska, and has resided in Belle Glade for two years. Mrs. Roseman will be a part-time teacher for the kindergarten.

Saint Peter's Lutheran Kindergarten began with an Open House, Monday, August 29. At the open house, the parents, friends, and pupils of the coming year met in an informal session to discuss the school year and activities. Regular classes began Tuesday morning at 8:30 a. m. ## God's Armor

"Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

— Ephesians 6:11

The armor of God is faith and through faith we are constant and of straight purpose. Temptation surrounds us. It is not always easy to recognize. It is often in the form of a promise. It may present an idea or an opportunity that speaks of great personal gain, with "none the wiser." There is great strength in the love of God. It is not a strength of caution, but a strength of awareness. God's way is the right way; faith in this simple concept is strength to meet any need.

EVERGLADES WATER—A major new canal and levee, center background, is being constructed southward from the Tamiami Trail (U. S. Highway 41), which crosses the picture left to right. The new channel, being built for the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District on the east boundary of Everglades National Park, will convey more water into the Park in dry seasons and will speed releases of water from Conservation Area 3 (bottom) where deer have been suffering recently from high water stages caused by record rainfall. Known as Levee 67 Extension, the new facilities, when completed, will extend nearly ten miles south from the Trail. The dike visible on the east side of the canal, will help retain water in the Park, reducing the flow out of the Park to the east. Construction was started in June by Harris Paving and Construction Co. of Miami under a $345,200 contract awarded by the Army Corps of Engineers. Completion is scheduled by next February. ## You Can Help!

Your Red Cross is offering every family in Palm Beach County the opportunity to show in a tangible way that they are solidly behind our fighting men in Vietnam, according to Jerome H. Pennock, Chapter Chairman of the Palm Beach County Chapter.

"We want to make this Christmas as pleasant as possible for every serviceman in Vietnam. To make certain that there won't be any forgotten U. S. Servicemen in Vietnam on Christmas Day, the Red Cross proposes to distribute ditty bags filled with small gifts for every man or woman on duty there," Mr. Pennock said.

He explained that a ditty bag is a small, easily-made bag, given to the serviceman to hold his personal gear, such as shaving equipment, usually some letters from home, etc. Any serviceman who has been hospitalized in a military or VA hospital is familiar with a "ditty" bag.

In order to assure success, the American National Red Cross is asking the local Red Cross chapters thru out the United States to make and fill 360,000 of these ditty bags, 72,000 of them from the 10 states in the Southeastern area.

Individuals and organizations interested in participating with thousands of others in making certain there won't be a "lonesome Joe" in the U. S. Forces in Vietnam on Christmas morning should call the Palm Beach County Chapter, American Red Cross, phone 832-4253 immediately for details.

FAU Sets Legislative Information Day

Over 100 candidates for the State Legislature have been invited to Florida Atlantic University on September 10 for that new state university's first Legislative Information Day, scheduled from noon until 5:30 p. m. President Kenneth R. Williams announced today.

The nation's first upper division university, whose motto is "Where tomorrow begins," will rely on an old time southern barbecue to brief the group before a freeing session on six "Areas of Critical Concern" The Legislative Information Day committee, headed by the college of social science dean, Dr. S. R. Wimberly, is departing from the pattern of legislative days at the University of Florida and Florida State. There is no pitch for special consideration of the things FAU wants.

Instead, the FAU group lists six points the state must consider in order to provide the climate in which Florida's universities can achieve distinguished reputations. They are: 1. Budgetary over-control reduces administrative efficiency of universities and promises accreditation problems; 2. New faculty positions are released too late to employ quality professors for the next academic year; 3. Florida's university system is handicapped by low salaries for top administrative officers; 4. Construction costs of university buildings appear high and uneven; 5. State practice does not encourage university research & Florida's support of higher education is lowest in southeast.

Details of the program for legislative action will be spelled out at the September 10 barbecue briefing.

For many of the group it will be the first time they have toured the $15 million dollar state university. For all but a few it will be the first visit since the opening this month of three new classroom and office buildings and two new dormitories. A faculty contingent of forty strong will be on hand to meet and eat with the politicians.

FAU has not invited legislators from all over the state. Invitations have gone out only to candidates and legislators designate in those counties geographically closer to Boca Raton, home of FAU, than to any other state university. Also included are members of legislative committees meeting in the area at the time, certain key legislators and the gubernatorial candidates.

Serving on the committee with Dr. Wimberly are Roger H. Miller, dean of administrative affairs; Dr. John Sullivan, dean of the college of business and public administration; Dr. John DeGrove, professor and chairman of political science; Eugene Robinson, special assistant to the FAU president, and Adelaide Snyder, director of University relations.

In front of the candelabras was the Lord's Supper table with brass cross and a large fan arrangement of white gladiolus and Fuji Mums. Nine branched candelabras flanked the altar. # New Library Will Have Seating For 116

PROPOSED LIBRARY
CITY OF BELLE GLADE
TOWN MANAGER

Belle Glade is to have new library facilities.

Charles Cone, Belle Glade designed the building that will be constructed by Blanton and Unwin, Pahokee at a cost of $71,484.

The entrance way will be extended from the building and shaded by anodized aluminum screening. River gravel panels on the front wall will add to the attractiveness of the building.

The one story structure will have a balcony storage room above a workroom and library office located in the center back of the building.

In the left rear of the building will be a multi-purpose room, possibly used for group meetings, said Mr. Cone. A small kitchenette will adjoin the multi-purpose room and the work room.

The rest of the building will have no partitions but be divided by use of the furniture, book shelves and magazine racks. The proposed use of space will include a youth section in the left front with a circulation desk in the center, in front of the library office. To the right back will be the stacks and the right front will be used as a reading room. The building will be air-conditioned.

The present plan calls for a room for approximately 28,000 books. There will be seating space for 116 persons.

The library will be built in the SE corner of the City

I, Mary Arthur Starling, do hereby leave on vacation of course. I wish I could promise an exciting resume of my vacation activities when I return but I am afraid all I plan to do is sleep, rest and spend two glorious weeks with my girls, Kelly Layne and Kay Lynette. My oldest, Kay Lynette, will be starting school on Tuesday, September 6, at Pahokee Day School. This will be a new and exciting adventure for both of us. — See you on Sept. 13th.

Teachers Want Voice In School-making

Palm Beach County teachers packed Bibbottown auditorium, Boca Raton, last Wednesday to hear their state professional organization representatives speak.

Mrs. Louise Alford, president of the Classroom Teachers Department of Florida Education Association said that teachers want the opportunity to sit equal with school board members, to discuss and help formulate policies and make decisions, for who is in the best position to know what is good for the children in the school plant.

They want a voice in school design, textbook selection, etc. "We often see mistakes and incongruities in school plans causing needless, expensive and troublesome problems which could have been avoided if a teachers had sat in on the school board meetings," she said.

Mrs. Alford challenged the teachers to become politically active.

George Dabbs, F. E. A. president, said the teaching profession is becoming a militant profession, mature, unified. "Gone are the days when teachers accept controls not of their making. Gone are the teachers who do what they do not believe in. Gone are the days when teachers are looking on in pity."

He continued, "Only we in the profession know what we need, we will decide when teachers do not come up to standard; we will not teach under untoward conditions. We will not be patronized, intimidated or ignored. We will not be accepted."

He reminded the teachers that Florida education is under a Sanctions Alert by the National Education Association and that if education did not improve in Florida we would not come up to the national average. The need is for fewer children per teacher and more materials per classroom.

Ed Henderson, Executive Secretary of the F. E. A. spelled out the goals of the F. E. A. These included reduction of the number of school districts in the state. At present there are 87, but, he pointed out, "This is better than states that have as many as 1000." Other goals for teachers are security in employment, reasonable sick leave and a good retirement system.

Dr. Phil Constant, Associate Executive Secretary of F. E. A., spoke on the teachers' Code of Ethics. He said teachers are subject to this as much as a legal statute, and that they are answerable to the Professional Practices Commission.

Belle Glade Lions Will Sponsor Youth Essay Contest On "Peace"

The youth of Belle Glade have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club. A challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and career assistance grant.

The Belle Glade Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today — peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the twenty-five thousand dollar prize, first semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois, in July, 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local district and multiple district awards will be made.

We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," President Victor Guzman of the Belle Glade Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

The contest, open to young people who will be fourteen but less than twenty-two years of age as of January 15, 1967, was announced by the president of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

The peace essay contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1000 prizes," said President Guzman. "Our club's winner will advance to the Lions District 35-D competition in his or her effort to qualify for the multiple district contest."

The contest sponsored by more than 20,000 Lions Clubs in 150 countries of the free world, will be the largest peace essay contest in the world today.

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is obtainable and the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal."

In announcing the contest internationally, President Lindsey said that Lions International, the world's largest service club organization, not to exceed five thousand words.

He said the world-wide representation of Lions, the attention given to international relations and humanitarian programs were the reasons for the patronage of the contest.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed five thousand words.

"Judging will fall into the categories: 75 percent of the essay is judged by three judges who will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Dr. Guzman went on. "If our winner can advance through the judging stages to the world finals he or she will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th annual convention for the final judging of his essay in addition to the $1000 award."

Dr. Guzman said he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date for the club's contest is December 10, 1967.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the BG Lions to get full details of the contest," he said.

The age limit for the contest includes all youth 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967. Dr. Guzman announced that each applicant would be limited to one entry with the winner's essay eligible to compete in the Lions District 35-D contest. Winner of the district contest will be entered in state or country contest. Each country or multiple district winner will be entered in one of the eight world divisions.

In his announcement, Dr. Guzman stated that the Belle Glade Lions Club will award three cash prizes for the three best essays submitted by Belle Glade youth.

Canals Being Cut In Everglades Park To Eliminate Threat To Wildlife

Water levels dropped slightly in many lakes, streams, and conservation areas during the past month but a super-abundance of water still exists, according to a special engineering report presented Friday to the governing Board of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

Emergency measures to lower water stages in conservation Area 3, where deer have been reported dying, are being continued, the Board was told by Zeb Grant, operations director.

Crews of Army personnel and Game Commission officers are at work chopping woods in the north end of the Everglades National Park, to spend releases of water southward from Area 3 into the water stages of the National Park Service in the past to permit the cutting of canals and set-back channels in the Park has caused a serious backup of water in the conservation areas to the north. But a change of policy in recent months by the Park Service is now permitting the cutting of canals needed to release more water southward.

No threat to wildlife is reported in the National Park, though water stages are now near record high levels, according to Frank Nix, hydrologist for the Park Service.

The water level in Lake Okeechobee is about half a foot above regulation at 14.08 feet (above mean sea level) it was reported. It rose slightly more than three inches in the past month, despite releases to tide-water through the Caloosahatchee River and St. Lucie Canal amounting to 9.600 cubic feet per second.

Conservation Area 1 in Palm Beach County dropped almost 8/10 of a foot in the past month, reaching a level of 15.05 feet (above sea level), about 3 1/2 inches above regulation.

Area 2 in Palm Beach and Broward Counties dropped eight inches to a level of 14.12 feet (above sea level) but this is still 16 inches above schedule. Recently, Grant said eight of the 12 spillway gates between Area 2 and Area 3 have been shut, to curtail flow of water into the latter area.

During the past month, Conservation Area 3 rose above three inches but leveled off in the last week of July and has been dropping since August 1, as a result of emergency measures, including pumping of excess water north 25 miles into Lake Okeechobee. Rain fell well near normal in the past 30 days. A level of 11.21 feet or 16 inches above schedule was reported in 914-square-mile Area 3.

In other business, the FCD Board recommended that an opinion be requested by the State's attorney general as to the extent of the State's claim on unmonitored lakes. Attorney Robert Grinstead said he thought it important that this matter again be brought to the attention of the attorney general due to the expanding recreational use of the waters of the State.

Executive Director Ed Dail said because old government surveys did not measure many lakes which were navigable, they were sold into private ownership as swamp and overflowed lands.

Concerning taxes, the FCD Board expressed gratitude over the attorney general's opinion issued this week upholding the District's uniform ad valorem levy. The current tax was reduced last month to a new record low of 37¢ per $1000 of nonempt property values in the 18-county area.

Dail said that problems of inequality in taxation are apparently coming to an end as a result of the law requiring all counties to assess property at 100 percent values this year.

THE SAFETY SENTRY

BY JANE DAVIS

Back-To-School Safety

As an aid to parents, Sentry Insurance offers several tips:

- Make certain each child has received a complete health examination and booster shots to prevent polio, small pox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.
- Children riding bicycles should be drilled in all the rules of the road. In addition, their bikes must be in top mechanical condition. A basket or carrier should be standard equipment to carry books and lunches.
- Your youngster should be taught to accept the authority and obey those people hired to protect him—his teachers, the crossing guard, the driver of the school bus.
- Warn school children never, never to accept a ride from a stranger. Hitchhiking should be avoided for children.
- Thoughtful parents realize school is an abrupt change for a beginner. Explain to your child what he can expect in school; take him for an advance visit to meet his teachers, if possible. If he will be walking to school, take him and walk over the best route, pointing out safe ways to cross intersections.
- Always remember that the responsibility for a child's safety ultimately rests with his parents. Make certain your youngsters' school days are good old golden rule days.

The Farm Front

By Doyle Conner

Hopefully, things in common will outweigh things in contrast when national agricultural leaders from Latin America and from the United States and Florida meet soon to discuss mutual problems and opportunities for economic partnerships.

The First Florida-Latin American Agricultural Conference will be held September 11-14 at the Carillon Hotel, with ministers and secretaries of agriculture from at least a dozen nations in attendance.

U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Governor Haydon Burns have joined in this new quest for economic harmony in the Western Hemisphere.

We are convinced this conference can reap tangible benefits to all concerned, in terms of trade opportunities and friendly competition.

Anything can happen in a new venture such as this, of course. No one is attempting to impose preconceived views on the others. Each minister will be assisted in his open discussions and negotiations by a substantial battery of translators.

Every effort is being made to facilitate communication among the speakers of English, Portuguese, Spanish, as well as to make available a wealth of technical knowledge in the areas of international agriculture, finance and economics.

In preliminary communication among the agricultural leaders, the following consensus has been developed as a three-fold official program for the conference:

1.—To improve communications.
2.—To review individual and common agricultural problem areas.
3.—To develop a mutual understanding of trade opportunities among the various nations and Florida.

While the ministers will be the center of attention, between 200 and 300 people are expected to participate in important, if secondary, roles.

The stakes are high for Florida, which is threatened with future farming competition at the same time that it finds promise in Latin neighbors as markets for many of our products. Our timing in the bid for harmony is, I think, very good. It comes at a time when both Central America and South America are organizing economic common markets which could pool resources to battle the U. S. head-on for world markets.

... or to do business with us in constructive, mutually beneficial ways.

The upcoming conference could be a pivotal factor in which direction we move.

It is particularly encouraging to me to note that, at this writing only, one nation has indicated it won't be able to be represented by an agricultural chief.

At the same time, those who have confirmed their intention to participate have been extremely enthusiastic in finding a letter from U. S. Ambassador Joseph John Jova to be representative of the sentiment, and I quote from it:

"I am pleased to inform you that Ing. Julio Piedra, Honduran Minister of Natural Resources, has indicated that he is accepting the invitation."

"Minister Piedra said that President Lopez had personally expressed his interest in the Conference and that Honduras should be represented by its Minister of Natural Resources."

"As you know, Honduras is very much Florida-oriented. Numerous Honduran enterprises deal with Florida firms, especially those trading in beef, shrimp and tobacco."

"It is also a fact that Florida is conveniently located to attract Honduran visitors. With so many areas of mutual interest, I am confident that Minister Piedra's attendance at the Conference will be especially pleasant and mutually beneficial."

"My warm congratulations to those who have taken the initiative in organizing the Conference and my best wishes for its success."

The fact that Honduran President Lopez is personally interested in the Miami Beach conference is a good indicator, I believe, of the weight it could carry in the formulation of international policy among these nations in the years to come.

Florida Income Down Slightly Vegetables Have Record Income

Sales of Florida farm products in 1965 are estimated at $979,494,000 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This is only slightly below last year's record income of $983,368,000. Cash receipts from citrus dropped 12 percent holding farm income just under the billion dollar mark.

CITRUS INCOME DOWN
Citrus which accounted for 32.9 percent of the state's farm income declined due to lower on-tree prices in 1965. Cash receipts reached $321,894,000 which is 12 percent below the record income of over 365 million realized in 1964.

Cash receipts from oranges which account for about 75 percent of all citrus income were down and grapefruit were off. It should be noted that the cash receipts for citrus are on a "delivered in" basis and include the cost of picking and hauling.

VEGETABLES HAVE RECORD INCOME

Potatoes, tomatoes, and sweet corn cash receipts led the way in 1965 to a new record income for vegetables and melons of $227,409,000. This was an increase of almost 5 percent over the previous record high of 1964. Vegetable's share of the total farm income has reached 23.2 percent.

FIELD CROPS INCOME CLIMBS

Cash receipts from field crops rose over 8 percent to 101.7 million dollars. This advance was paced by nearly a 12 percent increase in sugarcane income for this crop in 1965 stands at $47,674,000 in payments from processors plus $3,994,000 in payments under the Sugar Act for a total of $51,668,000. Tobacco, peanuts, and corn also made notable advances.

A significant increase in sales of greenhouse and nursery products was recorded as cash receipts totaled over 71 million dollars.

INCOME DOWN
In spite of the advances recorded by most crops the negative influence of citrus income resulted in nearly a 4 percent decrease in cash receipts from all crops.

Crops accounted for 75.7 percent of Florida's farm income in 1965.

LIVESTOCK INCOME IS RECORD

Greater marketings and higher prices pushed cash receipts from cattle and calves marketed in 1965 to $80,137,000, up 20 percent from previous year. Total receipts from the sale of livestock and livestock products surpassed the record set in 1963 and are now over 238 million dollars. Milk prices weakened forcing a decrease in total dairy income. Poultry and egg cash receipts increased over 5 percent. Income from hogs rose sharply due to favorable prices.

FLORIDA RANKS 5TH IN CROP SALES

Florida ranks 5th in the Nation in terms of cash receipts from the sales of crops. The state ranks 2nd in the Southeast and 13th nationally in sales of all farm products.

U. S. FARM INCOME A RECORD

Cash receipts from farm marketing last year totaled a record $39.2 billion, up $2.5 billion from 1964. A $1.3 billion of this increase was due to higher meat animal prices. Feed grains, cotton, and vegetables were higher while tobacco receipts were off.

The Nation's farmers realized a record net farm income of $13.2 billion, $1.3 billion higher than last year. This is the highest record since 1951 and is 21 percent above 1960. There was a substantial large increase in gross income than in farm production expenses in 1965.

1965 FARM INCOME

Cash receipts from Florida farm sales for the first 6 months of 1966 are well ahead of the same period of 1965. Sales totaled $631 million through June as compared to $610 million the previous year. All of this increase is due to higher livestock and livestock products receipts. Crops are down slightly. For the U. S. cash receipts were up sharply over the first half of 1965.

September Is Proclaimed Better Breakfast Month

Mrs. Mary Todd, Extension Home Economics Agent and County Nutrition Committee Chairman says that the County Commissioners of Palm Beach County have proclaimed the month of September as Better Breakfast month. At the better breakfast campaign committee meeting Friday, Mr. Lake Loyal represented the Commissioners. He emphasized the important part that home economists, including the Extension Home Economics Agent, and others play in promoting better nutrition county wide. He stressed the importance of the better breakfast campaign.

Mrs. Todd says that records show that approximately 40 percent of Americans skip breakfast. Health and nutrition authorities agree breakfast habits should be improved since breakfast helps you work and play better and helps you be sharper in your thinking and action, in the late morning hours. And students are aided in getting high grades.

The U. S. Government's Yearbook "Food" states that proper nutrition is an important contributor to health. Though modern medicine, good housing and other environmental conditions promote health, it is food that comes first. The food habits of many people do not insure that they select the variety and amount of food they need. Most people neglect nutrition in nutrition.

At the committee meeting Friday Mrs. Alice Buell, chairman of the better breakfast campaign, and Mrs. Jean Arnette Wendt, served a delicious buffet including cheese souffle pie. Arrangements were made for Willie Pastrano, former light heavyweight champion, from North Miami Beach Recreation Department to be guest speaker at various group meetings and to tape a television interview on September 8. He will talk on good nutrition for physical fitness.

The Zonta Club of Forest Hill High School, with Terry Van Benethay as President, has prepared resource material for the school health coordinators in all Palm Beach County schools. Future Homemakers of America and 4-H committees have suggestions for better breakfast activities for all school groups.

Miss Eva Williams, Coordinator of Health Services, and Mrs. Ruby Cannon, Coordinator of Home Economics Teachers, are implementing the better breakfast campaign through school health coordinators.

12 Moonshine Still Seized, Destroyed

During the month of July, 12 moonshine stills, 2,088 gallons of fermenting mash, and 235 gallons of non-tax-paid (moonshine) whiskey were seized and destroyed by agents of the department.

A total of 9 vehicles were seized, and 193 criminal cases were made during the month. Of the 94 trials in court, 63 resulted in convictions, or a 67 percent rate.

Accounting for the $11,560,359.55 in Revenue Collections, cigarette taxes amounting to $5,556,944.03; spirituous beverages, $2,641,435.95; beer, $2,003,718.26; and wine, $636,891.19. Miscellaneous collections accounted for the balance. The Revenue Collections amount to a 74.5% increase for July, 1966 over July, 1965.

This enforcement work was accomplished with the cooperation and assistance of City, County, State and Federal law enforcement agencies.

Corn, Celery Development Shared With Other States

Dr. E. A. Wolf, Associate Horticulturist reported on work on the production ability of the variety can be determined. There are two important advantages to this procedure. 1. Although celery seed cannot be grown in Florida the production testing is done in the same kind of soil and climate in which it will be commercially used.

State game officials report that over 500 deer are being killed by flood waters in the Everglades have been moved to high ground.

The death toll among the 5,000-head herd, however is mounting steadily.

TRAVEL AND VACATION

Sept. 1, 1966 THE HERALD, Belle Glade, Fla. Page 15

Mrs. Wedgworth and Mrs. Freeland as they leave for home.

Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth and Mrs. Edith Freeland were touring the Mediterranean countries, including the Holy Land, and the following is a letter from Mrs. Freeland.

Our train trip to Naples was thru very fertile fields of potatoes, beans, grapes, peaches, apricots, oranges, cherries and loquats which Wandering musicians played for us, and we thought of all the old Italian tunes we had ever heard of for them to play for us. Then of course there were men trying to sell us different

There are 1,600,000 people in Naples, and 300,000 cars. They are small compact cars and are often parked on the sidewalk. Shopkeepers are very friendly, and our Guide thanked us, as the Americans saved their city during the war. We can see Mt. Vesuvius in the distance. It last erupted in 1944. On our way out of town we drove by miles of old apartment buildings. The washing was hung a-

At least it is the one we all studied about in school. In 89 BC after an earthquake, Pompeii was rebuilt by the Romans, so we see stone and brick construction. In 79 AD the whole city was covered with 14 feet of volcanic ash and for two centuries people have been excavating the ruins. Pompeii was a city of 25,000 and you can clearly see where the central square was located with shops on all sides. Large homes were built around an open court which had statues, columns and shrubbery. It seemed that we walked for miles up and over rocks in the hot sun. It was all fascinating. On each side of the street was a narrow ditch where running water used to be. The Museum has cooking utensils and articles made of gold, alabaster, and ivory. There is food dug out of the ashes — raisins, eggs bread olives — all clearly recognizable. Bodies, face downward, have been petrified by the hot ashes. As we walk down the well worn stone paved streets, it gave us a peek back into ancient history. This I am sure is my favorite RUN!

cross the narrow streets and on the balconies. Guides often refer to this as "The International Flag." There is evidence of the bombing during the last World War. Many apartments have been rebuilt by the Marshall Plan.

Visiting a Cameo Factory was a surprise. We watched men carving out the small intricate designs on tiny shells. There are so many colors in cameos and coral that I was very much surprised. The showcases were fabulous. Here we think of people buying a large cameo and framing it on velvet. This appealed to us very much until we priced one and found it cost $100. Then the idea didn't seem so good.

Pompeii, built in the seventh century, BC by the Greeks, is probably the most famous ruin in the world.

Syd Smith, III Partied Before Leaving For MM

Sydney K. Smith, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney K. Smith, Jr., left Monday for Marian, Ala., to resume his studies at Marian Military Institute, as a Sophomore.

On Sunday, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dulany, were hosts at their home, in the afternoon to twenty-five of Sydney's relatives who participated in a "farewell party" in his honor.

Teachers Given Auto Tag 'Relief'

County Superintendent Robert W. Fulton said that new Palm Beach County teachers from out-of-state will not be required to buy Florida automobile tags until after their first pay day. Mr. Fulton has sought this "relief" for new teachers for sometime.

Under Florida law, any person owning a car who works in the state must buy a Florida automobile tag (Chapter 320.38). Enforcement of the law is a responsibility of the Department of Motor Vehicles. Mr. Fulton quoted State Superintendent Floyd T. Christian as saying that Motor Vehicle Director Arch Livingston had agreed to his request to allow out-of-state teachers time to get a salary check before they'll have to have a Florida tag on their cars.

The cost of a new teacher moving to Florida from another state, buying or renting a house, and the other expenses which accompany relocating, Christian said, "often leave the new out-of-state teacher trapped for money until the first pay day." Mr. Christian, who has worked on this project for some time, said the ruling would supply statewide.

A private's pay in the selectee army of $21 per month is increased in the regular army to $30.

When informed that a charter had been granted for the establishment of a National bank in Belle Glade well known citizens showed great enthusiasm and expressed themselves as highly favoring the institution. The general consensus of opinion being that it was the finest thing that ever has happened for the town and community.

Water bills, like the proverbial taxes and death, are inevitable. However, with one came a bit of courtesy & thoughtfulness.

A water Dept. employee rang the doorbell one morning. "Sir, do you know any reason why you might have used twice as much water last month as you used in any other month this year?" The homeowner remembered that a garden hose had been left on, full force one night. This is but one small example of the courteous, efficient service provided by the departments of the City of Belle Glade. It does help like the biting edge off the inevitable.

Glades Courthouse Notes

By Mary Arthur Starling

JOHN H. CAUSEY

On the last day of September, Mr. John Causey, Associate County Agent, will complete his 18th year with the County Agent's Office. Mr. Causey came to the Glades Office Building in 1960 from the West Palm Beach Office. The basic duties of Mr. Causey, as Associate Agent, are to advise the farmers on practical application of research in the production of all agricultural commodities, to call on farmers and assist them in marketing programs as well as production problems and to work with the "agri" business industries. Mr. Causey is in charge of the vegetable and sugar cane program, through the County Agent's Office, in the county, both Coastal and Glades area, and serves as President of the Florida Association of County Agricultural Agents. Mr. Causey and his wife, Lucille, reside on East Canal St., Belle Glade. The Causeys have one son, John Jr., who is a Junior at the University of Florida. John is studying Animal Husbandry and plans to become a veterinarian.

AGNES W. MCCLELLAND

There couldn't be a more appropriate time to introduce Mrs. Agnes W. McClelland, Secretary, County Agents Office. Mrs. "Mac" as she is most commonly known throughout the building, celebrates her thirtieth anniversary with the County on Thursday, September 1st. She ranks second in years of County service, over the other employees of the building, only to her boss, Mr. John Causey. Mrs. "Mac" not only serves as secretary to the County Agent but as Secretary to the Glades Division of ASCS (Agriculture Stabilization Conservation Service). She and her husband, Mr. L. V. McClelland, Glades Service Officer of the Veterans Administration, have been residents of Canal Point for 32 years. They have one son, Don, who is employed by Williams Funeral Home in Belle Glade.

Mr. and Mrs. John Causey and son John Jr., have returned from an enjoyable week of fishing and skiing on Lake Josephine, near Sebring. John returned to the University of Florida on August 29. (Continued On Page 7)

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLE GLADE:

Most of you are aware, I am sure, that on September 13, an Election will be held in Belle Glade in order to fill two seats on the City Commission. I am a candidate from the Central Boro district. I would like to try to tell you why I want to be your City Commissioner.

First of all, I've lived here in Belle Glade for 33 years. I grew up here, and I've seen the town grow up too. As most towns do, it "just grew" at first, without much planning and thought put into its future growth. Today, we have a planning and zoning board to help with the problems created by this hit-or-miss growth and to guide and plan for the future. I have been a member of the planning and zoning board for the past two years, and I think I realize the importance of fore-thought and planning for the future.

Secondly, I am a businessman. I think that if I have any important qualifications, this one is the most important. My father started Richmond Plumbing Company in 1928, and we have been in business here in Belle Glade since 1932. I became his partner in 1951, and after his death in 1955 I became the sole owner. Through the years I have seen at first hand the growth and progress of the town, because my livelihood has been directly tied to the growth of Belle Glade. Everything I own in this world is invested here in this town, and my success depends directly on whether our town continues to grow. If building and growth stops, my business is no longer needed. So, when I tell you I am vitally interested in the future of Belle Glade, you can be sure I mean it.

Also, as a business man, I think I understand about budgets and finance. I know a lot about "growing pains" because my business has certainly had them. I know about needing to make a lot of improvements, and having to go to these things as I can afford them. I know about costs, and overhead, and what waste and inefficiency can do to them.

Further, my work takes me all over town. I see people every day in every part of town. I feel that I am familiar with the city and its people and its problems because of this.

Finally, I want you to know that I like our town. I hope to stay here the rest of my life, and I would like to try to do what I can to help its future.

I would appreciate your vote on September 13.

Very truly yours,
Benny Richmond

Candidate Requests Agriculture Committee

Democratic House of Representatives candidate Loy Anderson announced recently when visiting the Glades that he had requested Speaker designate Ralph Turlington to assign him as a member of the House Agriculture Committee in the coming 1967 session of the legislature.

First Day In Glades (Continued From Page 1)

Former coach Harry Davis, now at the helm at South Bay, registered 213, a slight increase over last year. Four new teachers complete the 11 teacher staff.

Rosenwald in South Bay took in 296, principal Stevens reported, up only four. The school needs two teachers.

Hugh J. Rudder at Lake Harbor welcomed 117 students and one new teacher from Pennsylvania. Eight teachers comprise the school plant.

Pahokee Elementary registration figures were almost the same at about 490. Principal William Howard discloses. Eight of 22 teachers are new and at present two positions remain unfilled. A reading specialist has been added. Mrs. Mae Lashin Three Special Services teachers will begin their sixth year there.

A newly created position, Coordinator for Special Services in the Glades, will be based at Pahokee Elementary.

Eddie H. Fitzgerald, principal at Lake Shore Elementary, signed in 441 students Monday. His 28-teacher school has two new teachers and three unfilled posts. A new speech therapist joins the school.

Lake Shore Junior-Senior High School rose to 758, up almost 100. Of 38 teaching personnel, 6 are new. Seven vacancies remained this week, Charles McCurdy says.

Belle Glade Junior High takes on the 9th grade which was in the high school last year. Last year's first day enrollment was 435. Monday 724 students registered. The figure is expected to exceed the 900 mark in a month. Herman Close, Principal, said he added 13 new teachers to his 32-member faculty. He said students have been farmed out to two rooms in the high school and one in the elementary. Conditions are crowded until at least January when construction of new classrooms at the Junior High are hoped to be completed.

Anderson who is on a two week tour of duty with the U. S. Army Garrison (3220) at Camp Shelby, Mississippi said "I am vitally interested in the agriculture problems of Palm Beach County and the state and I fully intend to assist in every manner possible to maintain agriculture as a strong and healthy force in our economy."

Andersons many friends in the area plan a campaign organizational meeting upon his return from reserve duty.

Mr. Close hopes to get a teacher for students who need special help with their school work in the near future.

Belle Glade High School principal Pellon Morris registered 481 Monday, up over last year for the 10th over 12th grades. All vacancies are filled with five new teachers on a 27-teacher staff.

Pahokee High School Broderick Henderson registered 626 compared to 510 last year. Eighteen new teachers join the 42-staff school with three places still open shot and ran out in time to see the man jumping a ditch as he ran into a cane field and disappeared. Other city patrolmen arrived along with a Deputy Sheriff patrol and blood hounds were used in the unsuccessful search.

The hunt was called off at 7 a. m.

It was assumed that this was the same white man who had been reported on the prowling in the area several times. On one occasion he was peeping in a window and on others he made attempts to open doors after occupants had retired.

Charges Filed

A raid of city police Saturday night brought charges against Virginia Bellamy 38 and Willie C. Lynn for gambling. Twenty "ilms" of Bolita tickets were taken and many lottery tickets. Bond was set at $500 each.

Improved Living Conditions A Challenge To Our Community

remainder on the coast, many as far away as Miami. The purpose of the luncheon interview was to get information from this group of men who are deeply concerned about the community because it is so important to the people whom they employ.

They are a group of competent and well trained men who - while not trained specifically for the jobs they hold - are doing good jobs in positions which are rapidly taking on the aspects of a profession.

They are known as Personnel Officers with at least one, Fred Skyes, holding the title of Vice President in Charge of Personnel, for the United States Sugar Company.

While none of them had academic training specifically for the jobs they were prepared by other work which gave them a background in human relations.

R. C. (Bob) LEE was being rapidly promoted by Southern Bell Telephone Company in Business Office Management when his abilities attracted attention in this field.

FRED SKYES, graduated in Law from Columbia University, Washington, D. C. He is a member of the Florida Bar Association. Coming to U. S. Sugar Company in 1943 as an attorney to handle company relations with the Labor Union, he was made head of the Personnel Department in 1945.

HAROLD L. DAVIDSON, Glades Correctional Institute received his B. S. degree in Social Work at Howard College in Birmingham. He earned his Graduate Professional Certificate from Florida State University while specializing in Correctional Institution work. After working up to Classification Supervisor he was attracted to the personnel field and in July 1953 he was made head of the Personnel department at GCI.

JACK PETERSON of Quaker Oat Company was an Accountant. ROY SMITH, Florida Sugar Corporation was Public Relations Officer in the Air Force for four years.

EUGENE EDWARDS of U. S. Sugar was Supervisor of plantations and warehouses in the shade tobacco industry before being named Industrial Relations Officer for U. S. Sugar.

LEROY MEDLIN, Okelanta Sugar has about devoted his life to personnel work, having started out many years ago as Classification and Assignment Officer for a large corporation.

The common denominators of these men became apparent when they began to talk about their jobs as related to employees. They just plain like people, they have a "feel" for people and apparently are able to communicate "with" as opposed to talking up or down to people. This became evident especially when they discussed their roles as counselors.

When in few instances was counseling an assigned task this type of work just seemed to fall their way. They thought maybe foremen and others probably should do more counseling. They recognized that employees hesitated about taking personal problems to their boss. The range of areas worked seemed wide. All of them were charged with responsibility in supervising health insurance programs, employing and discharging of employees, and workman's compensation. They had varying degrees of responsibility concerning the training of employees, safety education, counseling, public relations and special responsibility in labor relations.

There is a Society of Personnel Administrators on the coast but generally the personnel officers felt that best professional assistance came from trade associations.

They felt that professional training was very important but that there was no substitute for experience which would enable one to understand the different departments of the business in which they were employed, but they rated the ability to exercise empathy, understand the other fellow's point of view and sincere friendliness as absolutely essential.

They all agreed, "we produce nothing, but the cost of production rests heavily upon us."

The Glades area is fortunate to have more than the average number of professional people and their cultured families as a part of the community.
